What is the Tanakh?

The Tanakh is an acronym derived from its three main sections:

- Nevi'im (The Prophets) ? Historical and prophetic books, including Joshua, Judges, Kings, Isaiah, Jeremiah, and others.
- Ketuvim (The Writings) ? A diverse collection including Psalms, Proverbs, Job, and other poetic and philosophical texts.

The Tanakh is written primarily in Hebrew, with some portions in Aramaic.

Historical Development of the Hebrew Bible

- The texts were composed over centuries, from approximately the 12th to 2nd centuries BCE.
- The canon was solidified by Jewish scholars around the 2nd century CE.
- These texts form the foundation of Jewish religious life, law, and identity.

Jewish Perspectives on the New Testament

The New Testament, comprising the Gospels, letters, and apocalyptic writings, is central to Christianity. Jews traditionally do not accept it as sacred scripture, viewing it as a Christian development that emerged after the Second Temple period.

- These are not recognized as canonical but reflect ongoing spiritual explorations.
